

X / Twitter Post — Let Them Do Their Job

[object Object] The leader who gives experts the answer gets compliance. The leader who gives them the problem gets expertise.

Describe the problem. Trust the expert. Verify the result.

#leadership #techleadership

[object Object] I told the mechanic "it's broken, figure it out." My engineer friend told him exactly what to fix.

Same car. Same research. I got great service. He didn't.

Describe the problem. Not the solution.

#leadership

- Character counts:
- Option A: ~165 characters (well under 280 limit)
- Option B: ~172 characters (well under 280 limit)

Recommended: Option A — cleaner contrast, more universally applicable beyond the story context. Option B works well if Jesse wants to lead with the concrete example.

- Notes:
- Both options use "it's" (contraction acceptable on X for brevity)
- Neither exceeds 280 characters
- Maximum 2 hashtags per X convention
- Jesse has never posted on X — this sets a crisp, direct opening tone for the platform