

Authenticity is not about being who you are.

It is about showing up how you want others to see you.

The version of you that leads well is not a mask. It is a skill you practiced until it became natural.

#leadership #techleadership

--- Character count: 231